Plane Is Missing With 49 Aboard In Denver Area

Wide Search Being Made For Plane; Crash Is Feared

(BULLETIN)

DENVER, June 30—(INS)—A four-engined airliner bound for Chicago with 49 persons aboard disappeared into the early morning darkness near Denver today, and by mid-morning no trace of the missing plane had been found.

A report that the United Air Lines mainliner out of San Francisco may have crashed five miles east of Loveland, Colo., proved to be untrue. A search of the area showed no sign of the plane, although a farmer had said he heard a strange noise that "could have been a plane crash" during the night.

44 Passengers and Crew of Five. The plane carried 44 passengers and a crew of five, including at least 10 women and three children. It vanished on the Cheyenne-to-Denver leg of the flight.

A partial list of the 44 passengers and crew of five showed at least eight women among the passengers, including a mother and her three children. Two stewardesses were listed in the plane's crew.

(At the Chicago headquarters of United Air Lines, a spokesman said a completely unconfirmed report had been received that the plane had crashed five miles east of Loveland.)

The plane, due into Denver at 2:10 a.m. (MST), last was heard from 14 minutes earlier when the pilot reported his altitude at 8,500 feet—a routine procedure as a plane approaches Denver.

Last of the 1951 crop of June brides are being united in marriage today in various ceremonies about the city. Although marriage licenses applications were light at the beginning of the month, cupid worked over time to make up for the slow start, with a sizeable group taking the wedding vows during the month.

Heavy rains of the past few nights have washed considerable dirt from unpaved streets on to the paved sections. Workmen of the city are engaged in removing the dirt and debris in order to make the streets more presentable. Many streets about the city are yet to be oiled.

Some ministers about the city are enjoying their vacation period now with visiting pastors to speak in pulpits Sunday. A number of the regular pastors will be heard Sunday and leave following services for their summer month vacation.

Black and red raspberries are being enjoyed at the present time in various sections of the county. The home crop is quite abundant this year and should result in much home canning by industrious housewives who must think of the table's needs next winter.

Young motorcyclists are causing needless annoyances to older residents of the city by gunning their engines and backfiring them as they await for traffic light changes in various sections of the city.

There is little doubt that corn will be knee high on most farms in Lawrence county by the Fourth of July. It's higher than that on many farms now. In fact, one farm along the King's Chapel to Pulaski road has a field of corn out in tassel. (It is probably early sweet corn).

Allied Planes Keep Up Attacks On Red Targets

Warplanes Continue Action Despite Talk Of Cease-Fire Move

TOKYO, July 1—(Sunday)—(INS)—Allied bombers and jet fighters smashed a huge communist supply dump into rubble Saturday in a mighty demonstration that General Ridgway's offer to discuss an armistice in Korea was no sign of weakness.

Wave after wave of F-84 Thunderjets left the entire target area near Namchonjom in North Korea completely devastated with clouds of smoke and dust rising hundreds of feet into the air.

By ROBERT SCHAKNE (U. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, June 30—Allied warplanes renewed their pounding of Communist targets today and had a brush with jet fighters over North Korea following General Ridgway's armistice proposal.

On the ground, action was sharp on the east-central front shortly after midnight but simmered down to "light contact" thereafter.

A flight of four propeller-driven American Mustangs encountered six Russian-type MIG-15 jets east of Sonchon over central North Korea this morning. All the Red jets made passes at the slower American planes but broke contact without firing a shot.

The Mustangs were returning from a bombing and rocket strike against Red rail lines.

Hit Red Supply Dump. Waves of American Thunderjets hit a Red supply dump in North Korea and reportedly destroyed Chinese headquarters at Namchonjom on the Seoul-Pyongyang road.

Boy Is Rescued From Death In Shenango River

Five-Year-Old Lad Pulled Out Of River Near Cherry St. Bridge

Little James Elmer Baxter, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Baxter, of 206 East Cherry street, is recovering nicely today in the Jameson Memorial hospital, thanks to the prompt and heroic action of Joseph Ginocchi, aged 24 years, of 10 West Lutton street, who plunged into the swift current of the Shenango river below the Cherry street bridge, in the Seventh Ward, and rescued the boy from certain death by drowning, shortly after 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Jimmy, with his sister and other youngsters, was playing along the west bank, just below the bridge when he fell in from off a stone, and soon was being carried downstream by the swift current.

Heard Sister's Screams. Ginocchi, driver of a Norwalk Truck Line Co. truck, was crossing the Cherry street bridge from west to east, en route to the Universal-Rundle plant, when he heard the screams of Jimmy's sister.

After crossing the bridge, and making the turn towards the Universal-Rundle plant, he stopped when the screams continued, and he heard Jimmy's sister cry, "Help, save my little brother!"

Strike Ends At Bossert Plant

Strikers Return To Work Late Friday

Production of axles was resumed in the plant of the Bossert company Friday afternoon when the three-day wildcat strike ended. At 1 o'clock a meeting of the striking employees was called in the CIO hall on South Jefferson street to consider the proposal of the company to end the strike. An immediate decision to return to work was not reached and from then until 3:40 there was considerable discussion.

Agree To Return. About 3:40 a vote was taken and the men agreed to return to work. The return to the plant started and the second shift men began work about 4:15.

The company made some temporary adjustments in piece work rates for some forging department employees. In addition a new formula was worked out for the settlement of grievances, a formula which it is thought will expedite settlement in the future.

The strike, characterized by CIO officials as unauthorized, started near midnight Tuesday. A conference between company and union officials and state mediator Troy C. Burns was held Thursday afternoon and evening, following which the company made an offer. This was accepted.

Boy Saved From Drowning

City police officer, Ed Kovak, comforts little Jimmie Baxter in the emergency room of the New Castle hospital after the five year old boy had been rescued from drowning in the Shenango river. The boy recovered after being taken from the water of the Shenango river below Cherry street, by Joe Ginocchi and given artificial respiration. Jimmie had fallen into the stream near the Cherry street bridge in Mahoningtown.

Representatives of the Lawrence County Council of Boy Scouts will initiate the program at 10:30 a.m., July 4.

The statue itself, is eight feet, four inches tall, and will rest on an 11 foot, eight-inch base.

It has been purchased through a 25c contribution of each scout in the local council. Those contributors were then entitled to have their respective names placed on the scroll that would later become part of the cornerstone. The local veterans' council has also promised monetary help.

Nation-Wide Movement. This nation-wide movement, which originated in Kansas City by Joseph E. Macy, assistant executive of the Kansas City area, is designed to "strengthen the Arm of Liberty," or to bring closer to the American people the meaning and appearance of the real statue.

Attorney Marshall Matieney, chairman of the statue of liberty committee, will be in charge of the ceremonies and will introduce the guests. The Rev. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath of the First Presbyterian church will give the principal address.

Proposals For Cease-Fire Truce Radioed To Reds

U.N. Radio Stations Maintain Vigil or Chinese Reds' Reply

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 1—(Sunday)

United Nations radio stations in the Far East maintained a vigil through the pre-dawn hours today—tuned to Communist transmitters in the hope of hearing a reply to General Ridgway's offer to discuss a Korean armistice.

The North Korean radio wound up its last scheduled news broadcast at midnight Saturday (7 a.m. PDT)—16 hours after the Allied commander's offer for a cease-fire first was broadcast—still mum on the day's biggest news, and the tense wait for an answer went into its second day.

No Mention Made. Both the Chinese Communist radio at Peiping and the North Korean radio at Pyongyang broadcast on their regular schedules throughout the day but failed to mention Ridgway's offer to talk cease-fire.

Thirteen hours after powerful American transmitters began beaming Ridgway's offer repeatedly to North Korea and Red China, the Pyongyang radio at 9 p.m. (7 a.m. EDT) declared a Japanese peace treaty will be illegal without North Korean and Chinese Communist participation. But there was nothing of the cease-fire in this broadcast.

A Peiping Korean language broadcast at 7:30 p.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT) discussed domestic and general war news but gave no hint of any reaction to the United Nations supreme commander's radio message.

At 9:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EDT) a similar Peiping broadcast was monitored in Tokyo some thirteen (Continued on Page Nine)

Oh where is the early spring phenom who walloped the pellet a mile, who ran the bases like some gazelle and fielded his spot in style. Well sir he's back in the bushes, or warming a spot on the bench, for the veteran needed some time to warm up, from winter to spring is a wrench. But once let the sun really glimmer and warm up his muscles and bones and the cheers of the crowd can be noticed, replacing the early spring groans. Next year he may be in the bushes, and the rookie get his chance to play, but some seasoning 'yet is the thing that he needs, it's 78 today.

Challenges Increases
Millikin pointed out that private business and industry make studies of whether their payroll is in line with the work load and added that firms that fail to do this—as does the federal government—sooner or later wind up in the hands of the auctioneer.

At the same time, Byrd challenged the thousand-a-day increase in federal workers and declared that it should be possible to curb the hiring of unneeded employees by defense agencies.

In the hearing there were pointed remarks about rumored manpower "hoarding" in the Pentagon and large-scale time wasting in the coffee shop and built-in shopping center.

bridge and down the bank, finally spying the little fellow's head come to the surface. He had been carried several hundred feet down stream by the swift current by this time. Ginocchi plunged in without thought of danger to himself and brought the boy to the bank. He had been washed down almost to the railroad bridge, and Ginocchi immediately began applying artificial respiration. He was soon joined by Stanley Dyll, of R. D. 8, Falls avenue, local insurance man, and Domenick Piccaro, of 212 South Liberty street, who assisted him. Their efforts were rewarded in a short time when the boy began vomiting.

Mother Plunges In

In the meantime, Mrs. Baxter was notified by the boy's sister, and she too ran to the scene and plunged into the water in an effort to save her little son. City firemen were notified, and Chief H. F. Steinbrink and Assistant Chief Norman A. McFarland, with Carmen Sheldon and Anthony Pannella, who were at Central Fire Station, raced to the scene, along with Police Officers Edward Kovach and Frank Pszeny, in a police cruiser. Finding that the boy had come to, Chief Steinbrink, first at the scene, put the boy in his car and brought him to the New Castle hospital.

It was stated at the hospital this morning that little Jimmy is recovering nicely, and appears little the worse for his harrowing experience.

Fire Chief Steinbrink lauded Ginocchi and his companions for their prompt and efficient treatment, stating that they had unquestionably saved the boy from death.

Mrs. Baxter stated that she had taught little Jimmy and her other children not to fear the water, and this probably helped to save Jimmy's life, as he must have battled to save himself or he would have been sucked under before he was and might have been too far gone to have been revived.

THE STARTING LINE

With 2,500,000 persons now on the federal payroll and the number growing each day, this would seem to be a good time to find out if all these men and women are actually needed and whether there is any duplication of work that could be avoided.

The Hoover Commission on Governmental Reorganization had something to say on both these topics, but so far its recommendations have received only limited attention.

The Citizens Committee on the Hoover Report is now determined to get some action. It has appointed a special committee whose job it will be to "bring about public and congressional recognition of the need for modernizing federal personnel policies" with a view of getting rid of red tape and of employees who perform no useful function.

While public support is helpful and important, the new committee's main effort should be aimed at Congress. That's where reform, if it comes at all, will have to start. About all taxpayers can do is to wish the movement well.

That they are ready to do.

TRUMAN TOUR?

President Truman is reported ready to take the road again on a "whistle-stop" trip across the country despite rumors that Democratic chiefs oppose such a tour at this time.

Democratic National Chairman William Boyle is said to oppose the trip on the grounds that the president and the party are doing all right now and there is no need for a tour to whip up sentiment for the Democrats. However, Mr. Truman has twice hinted recently that he is going to take his case to the people. He dropped one hint in a letter to the Democratic meeting in Denver and another at a recent news conference.

The president reportedly is very concerned about the foreign policy dispute arising out of the dismissal of General MacArthur and believes he can gain support for his ouster of the Far East commander by speaking directly to the nation on a "whistle-stop" journey.

SLOW BUT BETTER DEFENSE

One year after the Korean conflict began the United States, according to a survey, is much stronger in men, in naval vessels in active service and in the air.

Some of the progress made in a sense indicates a sort of "eating fat." Enlargement of naval defenses has been brought about to an important extent by removing ships large and small from the "mothball fleet."

Thousands of planes, it is stated, have been added to the air fleets. Some, from Korean war communiques, are advanced new types. And the year-end survey shows strength of the armed forces at 3,341,000 as against 1,500,000 on June 25, 1950.

The National Industrial Conference Board finds that the "first year" has been one of tooling up in industry, more than producing finished material. The total "actually spent" on the defense program this past year was a little less than $25,000,000,000. By the middle of next year it is expected to reach $75,000,000,000, with billions more still in "unfinished business."

The picture shows much more is still to be done. And the record demonstrates forcibly that we cannot improvise the kind of defenses the country needs—it is taking time and always will. That should be a constant reminder and warning that the huge defense program should not be trimmed down or slowed down, no matter what happens. We're getting ahead with it, steadily, and should stay there.

BEWILDERING

Arguments of many military leaders and statesmen, relative to handling Russia so Russia won't erupt, are difficult to follow.

General MacArthur was blasted for wanting to fight the Korean War as all other wars have been fought—to win in the shortest period of time. The rebuttal was that Russia might take umbrage at a method so crude and launch the general war which nobody wants. Russia's defense pact with Red China, it was said, would be sure to bring Russia in.

It is an argument that doesn't hold much water. The U.S. is negotiating a peace treaty with Japan, spurning Russia's counsels. That treaty will grant the U.S. air and naval bases and permit Japan to build armies. Russia's agreement with China was aimed primarily at Japan. Will Russia and China rest easy while Japan, the former aggressor against China, creates military strength with American backing?

The United States is arranging for military bases in the Atlantic pact countries of Western Europe and England. With American bases in the Pacific, Japan, the Near East, North Africa and West Europe, Russia feels it is being surrounded. Most Americans wish Russia were completely and tightly surrounded now, but won't that fact stir up Russia even more than bombing Manchurian bases? Every move the U.S. makes is aimed at countering Russia and neutralizing her aggressive capacity, a fact which Russia cannot view with equanimity.

Pursuing this line of reasoning, the conclusion is unavoidable that MacArthur was speaking wisely when he expressed his judgement that Russia will not start a world war until and if she feels that her strength is relatively greater than that of all her opponents combined.

Nationalization May Spread

A spreading movement for nationalization of all oil reserves in the vital petroleum areas of the world is seen as a real possibility today in the wake of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

Much depends on what happens to Iranian oil production when and if the British complete the planned evacuation of their staff and workers.

In his latest message to President Truman, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh admitted for the first time that Iran itself is not capable of working the oil fields and refineries.

The conservative press in Tehran is calling significant attention to the fact that Soviet oil production experts are available. But despite his unyielding attitude against the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, Mossadegh insists that he wants to keep Iranian oil flowing to the west.

This would be hardly likely if Soviet Russia gained control of the oil industry. No neutral nation has shown any disposition to co-operate with the Iranians and send in experts.

Nationalization Pressure
The pressure for nationalization is making itself felt in Iraq, Saudi Arabia, the Sheikdom of Kuwait, and Venezuela. These are the chief oil producing nations in the world outside of the United States.

Nationalization moves are being furthered by the communists wherever possible.

Native workers are being told that while they receive good salaries from American and British oil firms and while their governments receive substantial royalties, it is not in keeping with modern times for the untapped treasures of any nation to be exploited by foreigners.

There is a constant appeal to nationalist pride. This ranges from the communist agents, to be sure, but the vast bulk of native oil workers are far from being well educated and the appeal to their pride is enough to black out the knowledge that communism is anything but altruistic.

Definite Crisis
Great Britain's realization that it faces a definite crisis on the question of oil was clearly shown months ago. The government, majority stockholder in the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, agreed that there should be some form of nationalization.

It objected, however, to certain prior conditions imposed by Iran and the failure of negotiations has led to the present stalemate, a situation with profound ramifications for the entire world.

Great Britain has been strengthening its military garrison in Iraq, a move that Iran has protested along with the presence of the British cruiser Mauritius in Iraqi waters off the approaches to Abadan.

These troops are presumably held in readiness for action in the event of any disturbances during the evacuation from Iran.

But they may also serve as a warning to Iranian authorities not to proceed with any unilateral action.

U. S. To Stay Out
Secretary of State Acheson has indicated a United States determination not to become involved in the Iranian situation.

In Iraq and elsewhere in the middle east, however, there are many millions of dollars invested in oil reserves and installations and it is a foregone conclusion that Washington will have a lively concern if there is any sudden action.

One curious aspect of the whole matter is the apparent fact that the British labor government did not anticipate that its own nationalization might encourage other nations to follow suit, to its own detriment.

No time was lost in nationalizing the British railways and mines and socializing medicine.

The labor regime has announced its intention of going ahead with nationalization in other fields, such as the huge cement industry, despite heavy opposition from the conservatives.

Whether the Iranian dispute and the spreading nationalization may compel Prime Minister Attlee to slow down is a question.

It seems certain that the conservative opposition will make much of Iranian oil as an example of the dangerous paths charted by socialism.

Attlee would have a difficult time in proving that Britain's own encouragement of nationalization has not cost her Iran's oil and may lead to further reverses.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An agricultural journal reports that a farmer in Wisconsin, who always complained that his wife didn't shoulder her share of the burden, agreed to run the household one day while his wife went to Madison for a medical examination. A methodical chap, he kept a minute record of his activities. It read as follows:

Opened door for children: 106 times
Shouted, "Stop, Johnnie": 94
Tied their shoes: 16
Stopped quarrels: 19
Provided glasses of water: 26
Answered phone: 11
Answered question: 202
Ran after children: about 4 1/2 miles
Lost temper: 45
The next day the farmer himself journeyed to Madison and bought his wife the washing machine she had long coveted.

PEIPING—Gen. Chu Ter, Chinese Communist commander-in-chief—"The real objective of American aggression in Korea is to invade China as Japanese Imperialists did before."

From Me To You
By MESEALL

Comes that day . . . the Saturday before the 4th . . . No other holiday in all the year just like it . . . usually spent in making and talking plans for the one great holiday of the year. Fourth of July is important . . . more ways than one . . . But it takes a new importance . . . keeping alive. Well, one way is to stay home. And there will be much going home on the 4th. The dedication of the Boy Scout Statue of Liberty . . . and a big day on the City Golf Course.

If you are a golfer . . . and it seems that about 4 out of five are . . . you will be planning on spending most of the day following Sam Snead and three local golfers around the links. Snead is working his way through the PGA Meet in Pittsburgh . . . and, of course, it would be nice if we all could have seen that meet . . . But that isn't possible so the next best . . . and with much less traveling . . . The great Snead in New Castle July 4th.

Cost for this big day of golf . . . will be one buck . . . yes, and we hope that you and your friends will be on hand. Not only to see Snead, we are much more mercenary than that . . . We would like to make out on the deal. It takes a little expense to set up a day of exhibition golf. Lots of things to consider . . . the tying up of the entire course, for example, will cost a wee bit . . . all of course in money which we look at . . . So many people criticize the management of city institutions . . . without knowing all the facts. So we hope that you will help out July 4th . . . and make the crowd around three thousand.

Sports should be popular here . . . and in one sense it is . . . But when it comes to making the sports pay . . . that's another story. The games? Someone surely has an answer to that question . . . here's your opportunity to give with some constructive thinking.

ALONE AT LAST

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

No Break For Taxpayer

WASHINGTON, June 30.—"Never Give a sucker a break." That was the way one of the night club queens of the roaring 'twenties greeted her customers. In this present era of roaring prosperity, fed by government billions laid on with a fire hose, it sometimes seems as though that greeting could be paraphrased, "never give the taxpayer a break."

Here is another example of the curiously close relationship between the commercial airlines, heavily subsidized through the present system of mail pay, and the Civil Aeronautics Board which was created to regulate the industry. It is increasingly difficult to tell whether the CAB works for the public or the airlines.

Although no official information was put out about it, news stories have told recently about CAB's investigation into Colonial Airlines and its president, Sigmund Janas Sr., and one of its vice presidents, A. M. Hudson. These stories were obviously based on the "leak" of a bill of particulars prepared by CAB after a lengthy investigation into the affairs of Colonial.

Extraordinary Story

This document tells an extraordinary story of how the funds of the company were used in a variety of ways by Janas allegedly for his own personal profit. It details the use of funds to pay for jewelry, groceries and clothing in connection with Janas' luxury apartments in New York and Washington and his palatial home in Bermuda. Colonial funds totaling more than $500,000 were used to speculate in Canadian dollars and kickbacks were reported from advertising agencies and others performing services for the line. Altogether CAB accounts are reported to have been unable to trace through normal accounting procedures nearly $250,000. If the funds had been contributed by stockholders to a private firm, this might not be noteworthy. But it happens that Colonial gets the second highest mail pay rate of any airline.

Subsidy Larger

This means that its subsidy from the federal government is proportionately larger than that of any other line and consequently a considerable part of the money alleged to have been diverted to company officers was furnished by the taxpayer. Colonial is an efficiently run airline operating between New York and Washington and Canada and Bermuda but the routes it flies are uneconomic in relation to the passenger load.

What the news stories did not show was that the CAB apparently entered into a deal with Janas under which he would plead nolo contendere (no contest) to charges brought in federal court in New York based on the bill of particulars. He would resign as president of the company, the direction of which would be taken over by an executive committee of three and a part president, Alfons Landi, a partner in one of the big law firms that Janas retained. This is the firm of Davies, Richberg, Beebe, Landi and Richardson in which former Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland has become a partner. Janas would pay into the company immediately $25,000 and sign a note for $50,000 to be paid over five years, retaining a position only as "consultant" to the executive committee.

Stays Real Authority?

But knowledgeable observers who have studied this setup believe that Janas would continue to exert the real authority in the company. Landi is inexperienced in airline operation. One member of the proposed executive committee is a long-time associate of Janas. Another member, L. Orville Cameron, was, up until June 1, an air transport examiner with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Senator Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), is holding a series of hearings on ethics in government. The Senate subcommittee of which Douglas is chairman is considering a resolution by Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) on the need for appointing a commission of distinguished citizens to review the whole problem of influence, pull, favoritism in relation to government loans and handouts.

If the Douglas committee wants a case history that has just about everything, here it is. There is the cozy relationship between the firm to be regulated and the regulating agency with a convenient movement of employees back and forth between company and agency. And here are the impressive law firms retained as part of the Washington front of influence and prestige. One of the firms retained in the past by Colonial is Steptoe and Johnson, in which former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is a senior partner. It all adds up to a pretty penny. And it is John Q. Taxpayer who picks up the tab in season and out.

Independence!

By PAUL GALLICO

Next Wednesday is the Fourth of July, also known as Independence Day, and right now, by way of a kind of little pre-celebration let us examine this, one of the most beautiful words in the English language—INDEPENDENCE.

Yes, sirs and misses, she's a routin', tootin' beauty in every meaning.

Let's start off by looking at the New Standard Dictionary and see how she reads on the subject:

"INDEPENDENCE: 1. Freedom from dependence upon others for guidance, government or financial support; self-direction, or self-support. 2. Property or means sufficient to secure the comforts of life; a competency. 3. A spirit of self-reliance, or of freedom from subordination to others.

What Webster Has To Say

Good old Brother Noah Webster looks at it thisaway:
"INDEPENDENCE: State or quality of being independent; freedom from dependence; exemption from reliance on, or control by, others; self-subsistence or maintenance; direction of one's own affairs without interference.

Friends and brethren, ain't there just some of the most beautiful thoughts and ideas contained in the above? Just think of that last line, "direction of one's own affairs without interference." Young and old would enjoy that state if we could manage to achieve it.

Know what John Adams' last words were? On the morning of July 4, 1826, after a long illness, Adams was aroused from slumber by the discharge of cannon, and asked the cause. On being told it was Independence Day, he murmured "Independence Forever" and sank into a coma from which he never awoke. That word, and everything it stood for meant something to him.

About Independence

Thoreau wrote of independence, "I was not born to be forced. I will breathe after my own fashion. . . . If a plant cannot live according to its own nature, it dies; and so a man." Walt Whitman put it, "I wear my hat as I please, indoor or out," and Thomas Fuller, more vulgarly, "As long as I live, I'll spit in my Parlour." H. L. Mencken quotes an engineer for the Panama Canal who said, "So live that you can look any man in the eye and tell him to go to hell."

And it took a musician, Daniel Greagory Mason, to write the following: "The idea of independence requires resistance to the herd spirit now so widespread, to our workshop of quantity and indifference to quality, to our unthinking devotion to organization, standardization, propaganda and advertising."

Begin to latch on to the idea of how people took to thinking about that precious rarity, independence?

Then there was a man who wrote in a letter, ". . . Nothing short of independence, it appears to me, can possibly do. A peace on other terms would, if I may be allowed the expression, be a peace of war." The signature at the bottom of the letter was George Washington.

How It Can Be Expressed

There are any number of ways the delights of Independence can be expressed. In 1781, Charles Macklin put it, "Every tub must stand upon its bottom," while John Donne phrased it, "Be thine own Palace, or the world's thy gale." Hamlet declaimed, "Call me what instrument you will, though you can fret me, yet you cannot play upon me," and in the year 440 before Christ, Brother Euripides put it most succinctly when he wrote, "Paddle your own boat."

So that Fourth of July business is a celebration of the day we declared our Independence from the mother country, Great Britain, and allowed as how from then on we'd just look after ourselves. But it ought to mean more somehow, and we seem to have let the idea slip summat—the idea that an American is the kind of fellow who doesn't like anyone coming around sticking his nose into his business as long as he behaves himself and sticks to the Ten Commandments. We're the kind of folks who just don't like to be controlled by others, as it says in the dictionary.

And then we ought not to forget to take a look at that magnificent ringing line penned by the fellow who wrote the dictionary for the Messrs. Funk and Wagnalls, "A spirit of self-reliance, or freedom from subordination to others." That would be a wonderful thing to think about when we get around to doing our celebrating next Wednesday. Because there's an awful lot of wildcays around aiming to do some tall subordination of us and our lives, and one thing that cradles-to-the-grave security stuff just ain't good for is that old spirit of self-reliance.

Dearly beloved readers and clients, there is just nothing better or healthier for a man than self-reliance in large doses.

There is nothing half so sweet or dear in life as Independence.
God bless its life, forever, Amen!

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

We are so gosh darn fond of peace that during my lifetime we have been fighting three wars for it.

But even if we have to kill millions of men, women and children in the pursuit of peace, will we ever really get it?

PEACE is not something we can buy or borrow or steal like a piece of furniture, a diamond bracelet, a mink coat.

PEACE is a state of mind. There will never, NEVER be peace on this earth until the simple rules stated in the second chapter of St. Luke's is followed. That rule is: "on earth peace, good will toward men."

Some interpret it a bit differently as "on earth peace to men of good will."

But it really all amounts to the same thing.

There can be NO PEACE without good will.

But IS there good will among men?

Certainly not!

Take up your newspaper and see.

Read the paper of any town, any city—any village.

Fighting. Squabbling. Quibbling. Spite. Malicious gossip.

Take my own town of less than 12,000.

During the last few weeks 17 people in local politics have either resigned or declared they won't run for re-election. They have had enough. Too much fighting. Even the dog warden is in a political row.

The town folks are fighting about a new highway to be constructed.

They are having a row with the company that wants to bring in natural gas.

There is dissension and dissatisfaction in the Civil Defense organization.

Two partners in a nearby store just had each other arrested. One was threatening the other with a hammer. He claims the other had punched him in the nose.

We have a bathing beach here. Residents all have to buy stickers for our cars to get into the beach area.

This year they doubled the fee. "Improvements," they claim.

But our local paper runs a letter from an irate woman from which I quote as follows:

"I never saw the beach in such a filthy condition, stones and debris making it impossible to bathe or sit down in comfort. All my friends are indignant."

Yet, right next to this letter is another one:

"It was indeed a pleasure to see the excellent job the beach commission has accomplished," says the writer and congratulates the members on their fine job.

There is not a day that I don't receive mail commenting on my column.

The same article that brings encouragement praise from some also brings letters from others calling me names and accusing me of being a destroyer of morals. Republicans may accuse me of doing nothing but a so-and-so Democrat. Democrats may think they insult me by calling me a Republican.

Since time immemorial, men have fought among themselves.

How can there be peace among nations as long as there is no peace among men?

How can there be peace among men as long as there is so little good will among men?

Some day peace may be more than just an armistice between wars.

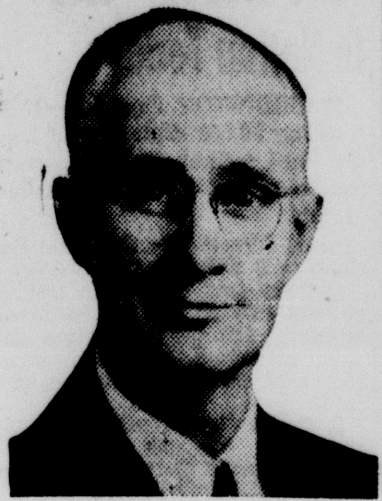

But not until ALL men EVERYWHERE have good will toward each other.

James Gibson Is Candidate

Seeks Republican Nomination For Council In City

JAMES GIBSON

I have twice had the honor and satisfaction of being a member of the City Council of New Castle. During these eight years I was Director of Streets and I am satisfied that during that time the citizens of the city received the services they required and to which they are entitled. I worked, at all times to keep the tax burden down to promote legislation that was for the best interests of all the people.

Two years ago I was nominated on the Republican ticket and defeated in the general election. My defeat then was not due to any lack of appreciation by the voters of my service to the city, or to any lack of confidence as to my ability and experience as a Councilman.

My record of economy and results in operating the Street Department of this city will stand the closest examination and on the basis of that record, I am submitting myself once more to the voters for the office of City Councilman.

As a basis for soliciting your support, I assure you that I will give to the city the same constant faithfulness and diligent effort in the conduct of city affairs which I always tried so hard to give. If you consider my past service in the light of the present needs of New Castle, I am sure you will vote for me again as you did before, and that you will not be disappointed. I enjoyed working for you and would like to do it again. I, therefore, humbly but confidently solicit your support and your votes at the Republican Primaries on Tuesday, July 24, 1951.

JAMES GIBSON.

Allege Mother Of Teen-Age Robber Acted As 'Fence'

COLUMBUS, O., June 30.—(INS)—Two Columbus teen-agers accused of a series of burglaries are in police custody today along with one of the boy's mother who allegedly acted as a fence for the stolen goods.

Detective Sgt. Herman Beck identified the mother as Mrs. Dorothy Dukes, 34. Beck said the woman's son and a 14-year-old neighbor boy looted homes of more than $1,000 in the last two months.

The detective said that during his investigation he went to Mrs. Dukes' place of employment where she worked as a maid and she answered the door wearing "$400 worth of stolen diamond rings on her fingers."

According to Beck, Mrs. Duke's son brought much of his loot to her while the other boy hid his share.

POLICEMEN ARE SALESMEN FOR THEIR HOME TOWN

Strangers in a city carry away impressions of the city from the type of policemen on the streets. Policemen are really salesmen for their home town.

A policeman should look like what he is, an officer of the law. He should be courteous, well dressed and thoroughly familiar with his community.

The mayor is the head of the police department. I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor.

If nominated and elected I would insist upon several things from the police department. Every policeman should know how far his authority goes just what he can do—and what he cannot do. This calls for training and instruction. I would insist that a policeman on duty should be properly dressed.

Finally I would insist that the law be carried out without fear or favor. As mayor I would back every policeman to the limit, as long as he did his job honestly and impartially.

Initial speaker for the summer programs will be Dr. A. Culmer Schultz, pastor of the First Methodist church and chairman of the summer series programs committee. Dr. J. Paul Graham, pastor of the Third U.P. church will be the leader for the service, with music to be provided by the choir of the First Methodist church.

The series this year will be conducted in three churches, starting with the South Side church and then moving to Highland U.P. church for the second program and the Epworth Methodist church for the third. Services will alternate between these two latter churches until the final program which will be conducted in the Central Christian church.

Various members of the New Castle Ministerial Association will either speak or conduct the services with three exceptions when outstanding denominational church leaders from neighboring towns will be heard.

The programs are a deviation from the outdoor services which were held for a number of years in succession on the lawn of the First Christian church. Last year's services were moved from church to church.

Special musical programs will be presented by the various church choirs of the city prior to the evening sermon. The public is asked to cooperate in the series.

Opticians Report On TV Eyestrain

LONDON—(INS)—The British Association of Optical Practitioners has issued a set of rules on how to view television without eyestrain.

They include: "Do not have the room in darkness. Have a comfortable amount of light, either overhead or behind, but not shining directly on the screen."

"Do not concentrate on the screen for long periods. Glance round the room occasionally because a change of focus rests the eyes."

"Do not look up at the screen. It is better to have the picture at eye level or slightly below."

"The best position for viewing is six to ten feet away from the set. People over 55 years of age may need special glasses for television."

Baby Falls Under Wheels Of Tractor

David Stasko, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stasko, of R. D. 6, was injured, fortunately not critically, when the rear wheels of a tractor on which he was riding, passed over his body. Little David was riding on the tractor and somehow lost his footing and fell to the ground, near the rear wheels.

He was taken to the New Castle hospital, where it was learned that he suffered internal injuries, fractures of the ribs and slight shock.

Hospital authorities said he had a good night's rest last night.

THE FOURTH OF JULY WAS THE LAST OF AUGUST

August Hobelspacher was an average citizen—he made an average wage—played an average game of golf—and drove an average car. The only place he was over average—was on the highway—he had to prove he could drive ninety all the time.

One Fourth of July, August Hobelspacher was better than average—he was doing 94 on a straight stretch—when a tire blew out—and that Fourth of July was the last of August.

Won't you drive on the Fourth of July as though you expected to see the fifth?

And to truck operators this little suggestion—keep your trucks off the busy highways over the Fourth, except in case of necessity. Passenger traffic will be slightly terrific. The industry can aid in safety by foregoing trips not absolutely necessary.

Nurses Graduate Friday Night

the church auditorium but overflowed the Sunday school room and its balcony, to honor these young women on completion of their period of training for this noble profession.

Rowland Presides

The girls presented a beautiful picture as they filed into the space reserved for them in the center of the auditorium, with their white uniforms, and each wearing a waist corsage of red flowers.

Roger W. Rowland, president of the board of directors of the hospital, presided. Following the procession, played by Mrs. R. K. Allen at the church organ, Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation.

Hon. John G. Lamoree, judge of the Lawrence County Courts, the speaker of the evening, congratulated the girls and lauded them for choosing this noble profession, dedicated to the service of those who are ill and in misery. He urged them to continue steadfast in their Godly work, admonishing them that success will come to them only if they are happy in their work.

Judge Lamoree Speaks

"We get out of this life only what we work for," Judge Lamoree stated, "and are only worth what we earn. Your satisfaction will come in a job well done. In all things you do in your chosen profession, as well as in all other things, do your level best, and your reward will come in the knowledge of a job well done for the greater glory of Almighty God."

Miss Margaret Muth, director of the school of nursing, presented the members of the class, and as each girl came to the rostrum, she was presented with her diploma and congratulated by Dr. William E. Goodpastor, president of the hospital medical staff, and with her nurses' pin, by Miss Marjorie Geesey, Class Advisor.

The girls were then led by Miss Geesey in reciting the Florence Nightingale pledge.

Congratulations were extended by J. F. Friedheim, director of the hospital, who expressed the hope that each girl would meet the challenge of the responsibility placed upon them.

Reception Follows

Before pronouncing the benediction, Dr. Bennett presented gifts from the class to those who had taken part in the program.

Beautiful vocal selections were presented during the program by David W. Rees, who had directed the girls as members of the nurses' choir from the hospital. He was accompanied by Mrs. R. K. Allen at the organ.

Following the close of the program, a reception was tendered the class members in the basement of the church, where refreshments were served.

Miss Edith L. McGahan was named the outstanding member of the class as standing highest in theory and practice of nursing by the Jameson-Shenango Alumni Association, and was presented with a $25 government bond by the alumni. The presentation was made by Mrs. Myra Cornelius, president of the alumni association.

PROPOSALS FOR CEASE-FIRE PARLEY RADIOED TO REDS

and a half hours after Ridgway's original message was sent out over the air waves. But again there was silence on the cease-fire.

Writing Armistice Plans

Ridgway's headquarters officers were deep in the task of writing plans to implement an armistice if and when the Red radio replies.

Sources close to the supreme commander said it was unlikely he personally would go on the mission to the Red high command in Korea. Ridgway said he would name a "representative" for any negotiations.

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, a possible negotiator in cease-fire talks, told war correspondents at his Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea he had "no comment" to make.

While the world waited anxiously for the Communist reply, a high United Nations official at Flushing Meadow predicted last night that cease-fire negotiations would start within 48 hours.

Lie expressed hope for a quick and favorable response from the Communist high command.

Lie said: "I earnestly hope that the message of General Ridgway will receive prompt and affirmative response."

The Ridgway announcement was brought to the top UN official by U.S. Ambassador Ernest A. Gross late yesterday afternoon. It was delivered 24 hours after Lie's announcement that the unified command is fully authorized to negotiate cease-fire arrangements.

Ridgway's cease-fire appeal was beamed to the Communists for the first time just a little over seven hours after President Truman authorized the supreme commander to seek an end to hostilities along the lines of the Russian proposal.

Is Jokey "Grab a Pension" Travers A Good Office Holder Risk?

WE ASK THE VOTERS TO MAKE INQUIRY OF ANYONE WITH WHOM HE HAS EVEN DONE BUSINESS, ABOUT MR. TRAVERS.

We also ask you, Mr. Travers, why your phone is listed under the name of Paul Slater, No. 1097? Who is Paul Slater?

We have for the past five weeks in the public press revealed Mr. Travers' scandalous conduct. We have quoted from public records which are unimpeachable. Our charges we have made are serious. The charges merit my opponent's personal attention. Mr. Travers has attempted to dress himself up; make himself look more presentable to the voters—if this is possible. His latest attempt to dress himself up is by a Paper Committee called "Independent Citizens for Travers" signed by H. A. Shaw. This is Mr. Travers new front, for Mr. Travers knows that, with a record such as his, no one would believe anything that he says, so why not have a paper committee fronting for him. His first ad titled "Let's Look at the Facts" was signed by 17 members whose names were used without their consent. We showed the voting public that many of the men whose names were used, never read the ad; never saw the ad; knew nothing of the ad, and never gave their consent to the use of their names.

After this exposure Mr. Travers dropped everyone except the chairman. In last Saturday's paper, Mr. Travers, using Mr. Harvey Shaw's name, expressed great concern over the Democratic Party. His accusation that when the Democratic Executive Committee endorsed Arsen F. Armond and James Kelso as good Democrats for County Commissioner, that it was the work of two men, is a deliberate falsehood. Mr. Kelso and my own endorsement was secured only after Mr. Travers appeared before the Executive Committee and asked for their support for himself. Those who knew him turned him down. There are 21 members of the Democratic Executive Committee entitled to vote; Mr. Travers did not get a vote. The endorsement of Mr. Kelso and myself was unanimous. You, Harvey Shaw, expressed great concern over the Democrats turning Mr. Travers down. From what springs your concern over good government—if you have any in this Primary, it will be unusual. YOU, HARVEY SHAW, HAVE NOT VOTED IN A PRIMARY FOR 13 YEARS. If you vote this time, it will be the first time since 1938. From what breeds your patriotism—the records at the Court House show that you, Harvey A. Shaw, registered in 1937 as a Democrat. On February 16, 1943, you were reinstated after not voting for two years. And again as of January 16, 1950, you were reinstated after not voting for two years. The record shows that your activity as a democrat in the Primaries is nil. You have not voted in any Primary since 1938. We realize Mr. Travers' plight. It would be necessary, with a record such as his, to look for a "fall guy" who knew nothing about anything and who had no interest in what was happening at the Court House, and who would be willing to take Mr. Travers and his Ghost Writer's word for anything. Who would better fill that bill than Mr. Harvey Shaw—one who had not voted in the primaries for over 13 years and who in 8 years had to have himself reinstated twice as a voter after failing to vote for two years.

In calling the public's attention to Mr. Shaw's lack of civic interest and civic pride in not voting, we say this without complaining—when he does enter a primary and picks a malodorous candidate such as Mr. Travers, the public would be much better off if he had continued his fixed habit of not voting.

You accuse me of never having filed an expense account this is a deliberate falsehood. When I ran for Assembly, I filed an expense account in the County Commissioner's Office. Four years ago when I was defeated by less than 200 voters, I filed an expense account at the County Commissioner's Office. This last expense account was returned to me at the express orders of Mr. Travers. I still have the letter from the County Commissioner's office together with the envelope it was mailed in—if you have any interest in good government, Mr. Harvey Shaw, this letter and envelope are available for your inspection.

Mr. Shaw, since Mr. Travers lacks the manhood to admit or deny the grave facts we have brought to the attention of the voting public concerning his record, perhaps you can have Mr. Travers' ghost writer write an answer for you.

The records under Mr. Travers' control and dominion show that he is the only County Commissioner that had the gall to join the County Pension Fund. Maybe you will tell us what he has ever done that merits us asking our children to support Mr. Travers for the rest of his life in ease and comfort with a Pension of $1,375.00 per year. Maybe you, Mr. Shaw, will explain why Mr. Travers was willing to squander $107,000 of the county's money so that he might get his share of $4,200.

It may be strange to you, Harvey Shaw, that the Democratic County Executive Committee urges the Democrats to defeat Mr. Travers, but they just have the ordinary stomach. TO THE VOTING PUBLIC WHOSE STOMACH IS NOT AS STRONG AS YOURS THEY, TOO, ON JULY 24TH WILL RETURN MR. TRAVERS TO THE BUSINESS FROM WHICH HE CAME, DELIVERING ICE.

I believe in reasonable and adequate pensions for county employees, but not elected officials, and if elected, I pledge that I will not join the Lawrence County Pension Fund.

At Mt. Jackson she asked for road directions and let slip the statement, "I didn't steal this car," police report.

It is a Pontiac, 1950 model, color green and carries Pennsylvania license 50-U-8.

LOST PAINTING RE-DISCOVERED

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rep. James G. Fulton (R., Penna.) is shown at the White House with a rare Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington, which has lain relatively forgotten in the United States Embassy in Madrid for many years. Fulton found the portrait while in Madrid and told the President about it on his return, they agreed it should be returned here. The President suggested the painting be hung in the rotunda of the Capitol if there is room.

Pheasant Census With New Facts

MADISON, Wis.—(INS)—Wild-life biologists have uncovered new facts on the habits and life history of the ring-necked pheasant, and have found a method by which the size of the spring hatch of the pheasant can be estimated.

The study, conducted by Prof. Roland K. Meyer of the University of Wisconsin, Cyril Kabat of the Wisconsin conservation department, and Irvan O. Buss of Washington State college, is expected to help game control agencies to base the length of the fall hunting season on the pheasant population.

The biologists found that after an egg escapes from the ovary of a hen pheasant the tissue chamber, or follicle, in which it develops will remain visible for a long period of time. By counting the follicles it is possible to determine the number of eggs laid by a hen during the season.

The number of eggs laid by individual hens varies considerably, but a good average can be obtained from the ovaries of half a dozen or more pheasants.

The follicles disappear over the winter, so only one year's record of eggs laid is retained in the ovary.

By using the new method, game managers may be able to estimate the number of young pheasants hatched during each season.

This new knowledge may help game agencies insure hunters a permanent supply of pheasants, both for hunting and for the pot.

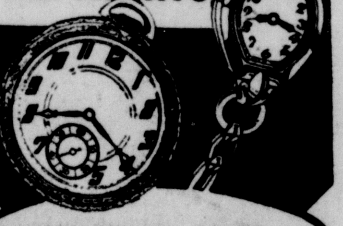

Tractor Driver Wins A Reward

LONDON—(INS)—Tractor driver Tom Rout of Heacham in Norfolk county received an unexpected present on his twenty-third birthday. It was a check for $4,180 from the British museum.

The money was an award to Rout for finding two gold and silver necklets, over 2,000 years old, while he was plowing a local field last November.

After an inquiry the necklets were claimed for the Crown as treasure trove. Rout got the customary percentage.

ANSWERS!

Some critical materials—such as copper tubing and tanks—are difficult to get, but we are stocked to the point where anyone who signs a contract now is 100% assured of an installation without any substitute materials.

It is not necessary that your oil burner be installed this month but we will set aside the necessary materials for your installation if you sign the contract now.

FHA credit terms are still available if desired—only 10% down and as long as 30 months to pay.

Our price is guaranteed. Once the contract is signed, you pay the price specified—no more! But, of course, the burner must be installed within a reasonable period of time.

The Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner is the most efficient, dependable oil burner on the market! Its wall-blanketing flame turns every drop of oil into useful heat. Only one moving part (self-lubricated) assures years of trouble-free operation.

Timken Silent Automatic fuel oil savings can be proved! Users' before-and-after fuel bills give conclusive proof that Timken Silent Automatic's natural "singing" Wall-Flame gives greater combustion efficiency than ordinary pressure-type oil burners. Fuel savings regularly amount to 25 per cent or more.

The Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner burns any ordinary domestic fuel oil. It operates reliably and efficiently when supplied with fuel refined by any of the commonly used processes—straight-run, thermally-cracked, and catalytically-cracked.

Birds Take Over Tower Of London

LONDON—(INS)—The historic Tower of London has been taken over by a gang of tough birds.

The mighty bastion—which has withstood assaults from the time of William the Conqueror—is today gripped in a reign of terror by "untouchable" ravens.

The terrorists have attacked tourists, chipped putty from Tower windows, pulled up flowers and tipped uphoulder in parked cars.

One of the Yeomen wardens—the traditional "Beefeaters" who look after the Tower—confided to International News Service:

"Lately we've had American lady tourists complain that their nylons have been torn right off their legs. That gives the place a bad name, you know."

Several of the gangsters swarmed bravely out from under the arch of the "Bloody Tower" where many a royal head was chopped off—and started digging holes in the lawn.

The "Beefeater" eyed them nervously. He gave a tug at his square-jawed face and fingered the tunic of his red-and-blue Tudor costume.

"Some of the boys have had their hats snatched," he explained. "It's getting so nothing is sacred around here. I'm expecting those bandits to run off with the crown jewels any day."

Four more terrorists joined the two on the lawn.

"That's the whole gang now," the "Beefeater" said. "Six of the toughest, boldest ravens in existence. They're part of the establishment of the Tower and we're not allowed to touch them—not even when they tear the nylons off the lady tourists."

"Henry the Eighth was an angel compared to those birds."

Potsdam Pianist Barred At Door

NEW YORK—(INS)—The young soldier in corporal's uniform approached the stage door of Constitution Hall in Washington and tried to enter. The doorman barred the way and told him to go around the corner and buy his ticket at the box office, like anybody else.

"But I'm List," the soldier protested.

"Oh yeah," snapped the doorman, "and I'm Padewski. Now scram!"

Fortunately, a member of the orchestra arrived and explained that the soldier was indeed Eugene List, brilliant American-born pianist, who was to be guest soloist with the orchestra by special permission of the army authorities.

In addition to having the same surname of the famous composer, Eugene List is destined for a permanent spot in music's Who's Who in his own right, for he added a colorful footnote to the history of World War II when he acquired the nickname of the "Potsdam Pianist."

It was in July of 1945 that List, then stationed in Paris, was summoned to Potsdam to appear at a state dinner of the Big Three—Truman, Churchill and Stalin—to play a program of concert music.

He succeeded in breaking the diplomatic ice with a program ranging from the Tchaikovsky Concerto to the Missouri Waltz. Before the conference was over, he was asked to play four more times and on the last occasion he had the unique honor of having President Truman turn pages for him.

The war interrupted a career that started brilliantly after the pianist from Philadelphia won several musical scholarships and the great Stokowski himself invited the slim, blonde youth to be guest artist with Maestro's Philadelphia orchestra. He appeared in concert all over the country and was a great favorite on radio.

Temperature Forecast For Coming Month

WASHINGTON, June 30.—(INS)—The weather bureau's 30-day outlook for the month of July calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals in northern portions of the lakes, plains and mountain states.

Temperatures are expected to be above normal in the southern half of the country with greatest departures in the west gulf states. Elsewhere near normal temperatures are anticipated.

Abundant showers are indicated in the northeast, midwest and northern plains. Rainfall is expected to be subnormal in southern and western portions of the country and near normal elsewhere.

CLAIMS SHOW INCREASE

HARRISBURG, June 30.—(INS)—A 23 per cent rise in claims for jobless benefits in the week ended June 22 was reported today by the state unemployment compensation bureau.

The number totaled more than 20,000, the bureau said, while an additional 88,700 were carried forward.

Salesman's Life Begins At Forty

MINNEAPOLIS—(INS)—There are plenty of good salesmen among the nation's 43,000,000 men and women who have passed the 40-year-old mark.

"A useful, productive life can really begin at 40 for men and women with inherent sales capabilities," according to Grady Clark, vice president and general sales manager of Investors Diversified Services, Inc., who supervises activities of the nation's largest retail securities sales force.

The investors group's nationwide staff of over 1900 investment sales representatives numbers 1102 men and women over 40, Clark pointed out.

"Selling investment company securities requires the sincerity, judgment, sensitivity and understanding as well as the seasoned competence possessed by men and women who have acquired the experience maturity can bring," he said.

Ancient Devices Hold Their Own

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(INS)—Modern contraptions are often no match for the tried and proven ways of ancient devices.

This was the case in Ann Arbor recently when an oriental abacus was pitted against a new electric adding machine.

Eton Suh, an exchange student at the University of Michigan from Seoul, Korea, was quicker—and made fewer mistakes—on the ancient abacus.

The 26-year-old Suh completed a page full of complex mathematical problems nearly three minutes faster than the adding machine operator.

However, a bookkeeping machine whipped both the adding machine and the abacus in speed and accuracy.

On the abacus, Suh finished addition, subtraction and multiplication problems in six minutes, 50 seconds.

Donald Kauskas, also a U. of M. student, required nine minutes, 15 seconds on a late model adding machine.

Suh made six errors, Kauskas nine.

The bookkeeping machine, operated by a demonstrator, did the same problems in four minutes, two seconds—without an error.

As an interesting sidelight, the electric adding machine displayed a shortcoming which Suh would never encounter. It failed to operate when the contest first started. Someone had forgotten to plug it in.

Indians Capture Fifth Game In Row, Top Oil City 10-8

Tribe Will Play Athletics Again Tonight And Sunday

The surging New Castle Indians made it five victories in a row last night, trimming the Oil City Athletics 10-8 in a thrilling game at Flaherty Field.

Tonight Oil City and New Castle will resume their current three-game series, the contest booked for a 7:30 o'clock start. The two teams will windup their series with a Sunday afternoon game at 2:30 o'clock.

Lee Bickel Will Hurl Tonight

Manager Al Milnar will give the pitching nod to young Lee Bickel, the 18-year old Warren, Ohio boy who relieved Paul Klaffer (5-3) in the ninth inning last night. Bickel returned to the team last night after being in the inactive list for 10 days. Klaffer got the win.

Stan Zedalis will likely get the pitching assignment for Sunday, with Herb Churchill and Ken Geer going in the twin-bill at Butler Monday night, and Ciske in the Tuesday game.

The win last night kept the Indians three games behind Niagara Falls who trimmed Butler and 13½ games back of Erie, the latter team being whipped by the Lockport Locks 4-1.

Shoup Hits Homer

Young Paul Klaffer, wrapping up his fifth win against three defeats last night, allowed the Indians two runs in the first inning, and then settled down to hold them hitless and runless the next four innings, until catcher George Shoup blasted his three-run, left-field walk homer, in the sixth inning. Schneidermiller and Lavery scored ahead of Shoup.

The Indians came back in their half of the first to tie the game up and drive starter Dan Ring off the mound, as Toles singled, Magula singled and Butler got hit by a pitched ball, before Jim Seymour was rushed in.

The Indians grabbed the lead 4-2 in the third on singles by Magula, Lavigne and Horne, and added another in the fourth on two walks and an infield put. The

M-A League Votes

For Split Season

President Al Scarazzo and Business Manager Jack Lewis of the New Castle Indians attended a Middle-Atlantic league baseball meeting in Erie yesterday and cast their vote for a split season. Erie was declared the first-half champs, and the winner of the second half starting Monday July 2, will play the Erie team for the championship at the end of the year.

A new standing will start Monday with all six teams having an equal chance to cop the second half crown, but if Erie wins, the league will use the Shaughnessy playoff system, with the first four teams in the second half participating, however if Erie does not win the second half the team that finishes first will play the Erie Sailors a series of the best of seven games for the league championship.

Tribe took a 8-5 lead in the sixth on one hit, a single by Lavigne, and five walk issued by pitcher Schneidermiller who had relieved Seymour in the fifth. Two more Indians scampered over the plate in the eighth inning, on a single by Frisina, a walk to Horne and Klaffer's double to center.

Business Manager Jack Lewis last night announced the release of young Joe Barbato, second-baseman and the putting of Bernie Sakanich, rookie catcher on the inactive list for 10 days.

Lee Bickel is back on the active list, and Robert "Bob" Lavan, 21, of Cleveland, an optioned outfielder has been signed to a contract. He will probably see action in the game tonight. Millar intimated. Lavan is a bonus player signed by the Cleveland Indians after a try-out and assigned to Harrisburg the latter team then sending Lavan here for seasoning.

Lewis also announced that final arrangements have been completed to bring the famous Indianapolis Clowns here the night of July 13 to play the New Castle Indians at 8 o'clock, and also plans are progressing nicely for the gigantic fireworks display at Flaherty Field the night of July 4th following the Butler-New Castle Middle-Atlantic League game, that gets under way at 7:30 o'clock.

Hillsville	6	12	.333	8½
Fees	6	12	.333	8½
DeCarbo	0	16	.000	13½

There will be four games in the City Circuit Sunday, the feature settees being Croton at Wampum and Besemer at Universal, George Washington junior high school field. The remaining tilts will find the Lawrence Indies opposed to Fees at Chumura field and Hillsville playing the DeCarbo Bombers at Patton field. Wampum is heading the league with 15 won and four defeats.

League brevities: Wampum has lost only one game out of their last 15, that to the Unis, 1-0. . . Jim McCready has won four and lost none. He is leading the team in hitting, having 31 hits of 61 times at bat. . . Jim Book has five wins and one defeat, and has hit 21 times for .476. Mills is batting .462. Hairhoger .386 and Nick Palagallo .355.

Home Run Clouter
Joe Mills is the home run hitter of the Wampum team. So far he has sent the ball flying out of the lot three times. . . Nick Palagallo is one of the best infielders in the loop. His work at shortstop has been brilliant. . . Wampum sent a big crowd to the recent Besemer game which Wampum won. . . Vance, Badger, Martin, Procopio, Huffman, W. d r m a n, Brown, Powell and Huffman are playing fast ball.

The Unis have won twice from Wampum this season. . . Borm Conti will pitch for the Universal Sunday against Besemer. He hurled in the American Legion League and also in the Navy during the war. . . Griet will pitch for Besemer. . . The Andersons of Besemer are heavy clouters. . . West Pittsburg had a good week having won three games consecutively, beating the Bombers, Hillsville and Fees, now have a 9-11 record.

May Sign Players
The dope is that West Pittsburg next week may have Semansky and Bing Markey in their lineup. Semansky was with the Indies and Markey with the Unis. . . According to reports the City League is faster this year than for several years past. The game are played better, the scores are tighter. The teams hustle and play without stalling and gripping too much. . . Indications are the teams which will comprise the first four for the playoffs, are Wampum, Elliotts, Universals, Croton and Besemer.

However, the Indies and West Pittsburg cannot be counted out. If they procure added strength they will become a threat. At the start of the season, Wampum and Besemer were selected as the teams to watch. The dope was right about Wampum and Besemer may yet come through. . . Managers are urged to get their postponed games played off quick. . . Because of the good games, speedy tilts and lack of bickering, the games are drawing large crowds.

CROTON DEFEATS BESSEMER
Croton defeated Besemer, 5 to 4 at Besemer, last night. Dom Cook won the game in the eighth inning when he tripped.

The game was one of the best of the season.

One of the things that is causing bystanders to take notice of the White Sox and agree that maybe they are not strictly flashes in the pan after all, is the way they win against the good clubs as well as the lesser ones. They also can win on the road as well as at home.

Dodgers Lose, White Sox Win

Yanks Top Red Sox, Indians Scalp Tigers

By HOWARD SIGMANT (L. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 30.—That Brooklyn Dodger theory of "win the close ones and you win the pennant" is splendid, except for just one minor thing: They're beginning to lose the close ones.

For the second straight game, the Dodgers lost by one run last night, thus seeing their "invincible" National league lead reduced to an assailable four-and-a-half games over the New York Giants.

Thursday, it was 5 to 4, Giants over Dodgers. At Ebbets field last night it was 3 to 2, Phillies over Dodgers.

The Chicago White Sox maintained their half-game lead over the New York Yankees by whaling the St. Louis Browns, 10 to 3, while the Yanks were stopping the hot Boston Red Sox behind a three-hit masterpiece by Vic Raschi.

Elsewhere in the American league, the Cleveland Indians and Bob Lemon continued to cast their mystic spell over the Detroit Tigers. This time it came out Cleveland 4, Detroit 1, for the Tribe's seventh and Lemon's third straight conquest of the Bengals this season.

Look at who's making a determined bid, meanwhile, for sixth place. It's the Philadelphia Athletics, who cheerfully whacked Washington 3 to 2 and 11 to 5 in a two-night doubleheader to draw within half a game of the six-place Senators.

There was much ado about nothing in the Cubs-Cards National league game at St. Louis. It was 6 to 6 after nine innings when the game was called to allow the Cubs to catch a train.

Rain kayved the Giants-Braves night game at Boston and the Pirates and Reds day game.

Bosserts Again Beat Stegs; Gain Fourth Place In League Play

Chris Demos and the New Castle Bossert, for the second time in as many nights, defeated the Stegs in City League softball play at the Stegs field.

A 2-2 tie necessitated extra-inning play and not until the ninth did the Bossert push across the winning run for a 3-2 decision.

Double plays worked to the advantage of both teams and managed to offset the extra base hitting.

C. Farris homered. Pace hit a triple and a single, Covelli a double and single, and Jacobs a double.

Bossert is now in undisputed fourth place.

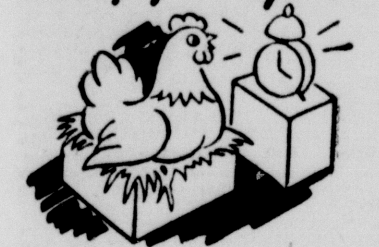

Paiano was the losing pitcher. Score by innings:

Bossert	000	000	201	3
Stegs	000	001	000	2

He was to oppose Armando Vieira of Brazil while two other Americans, Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Dick Savitt, Orange, N. J., also opposed foreign customers in the round of sixteen. Flam's foe was Hans Van Swol of Holland, while Savitt took on the Iron Curtain star, Joseph Asboth of Hungary.

R.F.C. In New Move
To Lighten Lending
Policies For Future

WASHINGTON, June 30—(INS)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., in a new move to lighten its lending policies, announced Friday that its regional offices no longer will be permitted to make loans on their own.

The agency's 32 offices throughout the country have heretofore been authorized to make loans up to $100,000 without Washington clearance.

RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington said that in the future, only disaster loans can be made without approval of the Washington office.

He explained the action is in line with his recently announced policy of approving only essential civilian and defense loans. The new procedure, he said, will insure that this policy is carried out.

Symington also announced the resignations of two regional managers, George W. Robertson in New Orleans and Arthur W. Carlson in Minneapolis.

Robertson, who is retiring because of ill health, will be succeeded by Justin Green. Bernard E. Boldin, who has been in the Washington office, will replace Carlson.

THE FAMILY
SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Hot Picnic Dish

Every now and then, a picnic seems to call for some hot food rather than the customary sandwiches and other unheated delicacies. One of the most filling and easiest to prepare is good old macaroni and cheese.

In the long ago years when I was a Boy Scout, our troop would sometimes go on an overnight hike to the river-bottom near home. A huge kettle, hung over the fire, was half-filled with water. We cooked the macaroni "by feel."

When a piece felt right in our mouths and didn't have a doughy taste, we figured it was done. And then came the cheese! No macaroni was worth much to us unless the whole thing had a strongly yellow tinge from quantities of cheese melted into it.

Raw tomatoes, lettuce, carrots or other fresh green vegetables go well with macaroni and cheese. If your family hasn't had an outdoor macaroni-and-cheese dinner recently, it's worth considering.

Treating Monopoly

WASHINGTON, June 30—(INS)—

The government acted Friday to break up an alleged wool treating monopoly that it said has resulted in higher prices and poor workmanship in New York's huge garment industry.

The Justice Department announced the filing of a civil anti-trust suit in New York Federal Court against Textile Refinishers Association Inc., its 31 member firms, two labor unions and the Textile Finishers Clearing House, Inc.
